4 1/2 Pct. Budget Hike For N. U. Approved

$6,673,048 For Year Is Less Than Requested; $4 Million From Property Tax

NORTH PLATTE—A University of Nebraska operating budget of $6,673,048 for the 1949-50 fiscal year was approved by the board of regents at a meeting held at the university's agricultural experiment sub-station here Saturday.

New Aid To World Proposed

$45,000,000 Program For Backward Areas Sought By President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A congress already disputing some parts of the administration's foreign policy Saturday studied a request from President Truman for a new foreign aid program to build up backward countries all over the world.

Specifically, the president wants: (1) A fund of $45,000,000 to finance American engineering and other assistance to such countries.

(2) Authority for the export-import bank to guarantee new American private investments in those countries against the risks of loss "peculiar" to foreign financing.

Mr. Truman specified "parts of Africa, the Near and Far East, and certain regions of Central and South America" as regions where the program would be applied on a share cost basis with local governments.

Leaders Cautious.

A special message from the chief executive on what he has called his "bold new program" was sent to congress late Friday. Initially, leaders there were cautious about predicting its chance of passage this session.

Speaker Rayburn said there will be "a great deal of strong support for it on the house floor" if it comes out of committee.

Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) agreed.

But they didn't know what the chances of getting it out of committee might be at this point.

Outlines Operation.

The president said he wants a long-term operation, in some ways experimental, to be carried out partly in co-operation with the United Nations.

His project, he said, would benefit American industry and agriculture by building up the living standards of countries with backward economies, thus making them better markets. In the same manner, it would help prevent their peoples, who want a better life, from turning to "false doctrines" and "tyranny," he said.

While Mr. Truman declared that "it is vital that we move quickly," immediate congressional reaction left open the question whether speed would be forthcoming.

Seek Zoning Change For 48th. O Corner

For the purpose of a "drive-in type of business," including grocery store, filling station, and soft-drinks drive-in, two Lincoln men have applied for a zoning change to local business at Forty-eighth and O streets.

Eddie Gold, 1641 L street, and Harry K. Lydick, 3528 A street, own in partnership a 178 by 200 foot tract on the northeast corner of the intersection.

However, a 53 by 60 foot insert of the property is still zoned for residential purposes, which the partners contend should be rezoned to local business.

The city council may not have to act on this individual application because it now has under consideration a plan to zone both sides of O street from Forty-fourth to Forty-eighth to local business.

DUPED WIDOW MEETS CON MAN AGAIN—Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39-year-old Chicago widow, talks with Sigmund Z. Engel, who police said has swindled gullible women for 50 years. The aging Lothario was picked up after Mrs. Genevieve Parro, also a Chicago widow, became suspicious of his marriage proposal. "I'm always a gentleman," Engel told reporters, "and a gentleman is a man who knows right from wrong, except in matters concerning money." Standing is Mrs. Corrigan's daughter. ## 'Love Pirate' Caught After Fifty Years

73-Year-Old Romeo Captured in Chicago

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sigmund Z. Engel, who for 50 years has wooed gullible widows and fleeced them of their fortunes, was tripped up by one of his intended victims Friday.

The dapper, aged Lothario, whose suave talk and glib manner earned him a reputation as an international confidence man, was seized in a police trap in a Michigan avenue shop.

Mrs. Genevieve Parro, 55-year-old widow, led the 73-year-old Engel into the police net as they went to the shop to buy luggage for a proposed holiday trip.

Mrs. Parro became suspicious of the smooth-talking Romeo—who posed as Paul Marshall, a wealthy Evanston resident—after he started a whirlwind courtship with her earlier this week. She notified policeman Marian Hagen, her sister-in-law.

Police, who had been searching for Engel for allegedly bilking another Chicago widow of $8,000 earlier this month, urged Mrs. Parro to carry on her romance with Engel. She agreed and "consented" to a marriage proposal by Engel, whom police say has a police record in nearly every major city in the nation and many foreign countries.

Engel then agreed to meet Mrs. Parro at a luggage shop Friday and buy her some luggage. It was there that police officers, posing as sales clerks and customers, seized him.

Fireman Breaks Hip
A city fireman, James O. Forrest, 65, 525 North Thirty-second street, received a broken left hip Friday afternoon while on duty pumping water out of a grain elevator basement at Sixth and G streets.

According to Fire Chief Paul Feaster, Forrest tripped over a hose line and fell. Feaster took Forrest to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment. Hospital attendants Saturday reported his condition as fair.

Rev. Thompson New Moderator

OMAHA—(AP)—The election of the Rev. Lester Thompson of Muskegon, Mich., as moderator of the Baptist general conference, currently in national convention here, was disclosed Saturday.

Named vice moderator was E. E. Eklof, Moline, Ill.

Nebraskaans named to various boards of the Baptist group, formerly known as the Swedish Baptist general conference, included the Rev. Carl Sequist of Gothenburg, named to the home mission board, and H. A. Palm of Omaha, named to the men's brotherhood board.

The Rev. Leonard Carroll, now pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church in St. Paul, Minn., was chosen director of Bible school work in Chicago.

Cheney Farm Shed Destroyed By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a reconverted army barracks being used for a shed on the Glenn H. Talbot farm, three-fourths of a mile southeast of Cheney Saturday morning.

Engine No. 6 from the College View sub-station answered the call at 10:53, but was successful only in keeping the flames from spreading to other farm buildings.

Talbot made no estimate of the loss. The shed was filled with hay and straw.

Belgians To Pass On King

Return To Throne Of Exiled Monarch Key Election Issue

BRUSSELS, Belgium—(AP)—Should Belgium's exiled King Leopold III be returned to his throne?

That is the question facing Belgians when they vote in Sunday's general elections.

The balloting is for representatives to the chamber of deputies, senate and nine provincial councils, but the royal question has dominated all other election issues.

Belgium's largest party—the social Christian—is supporting Leopold's return. It has promised, however, not to rush the matter. The social Christians say they will hold a referendum on the monarchy question if they receive an absolute majority in the senate and chamber.

The socialists, communists and most liberals want Leopold to abdicate. Women will vote Sunday for the first time in Belgium's history. There are more than 5,600,000 eligible voters and over half of them are women.

The royal question dates back to the war.

Many Belgians resent the fact that Leopold surrendered his country's forces to the Germans early in World War II, and became a prisoner of the Germans, instead of leaving Belgium as his ministers had advised.

Leopold later was taken to Germany. After Belgium's liberation in 1944, parliament elected his brother, Prince Charles, as regent. Only a majority vote of both parliamentary chambers can end Charles' regency.

Mrs. Schock Dies; Here For Reunion

Mrs. Jennie Bell Schock, 62, Oakland, Cal., who was taken suddenly ill at a cafe at 1231 F street, died en route to a local hospital Saturday noon.

Firemen from the F street sub-station who answered an emergency call to the cafe attempted to revive Mrs. Schock by means of a resuscitator before the ambulance arrived.

Mrs. Schock came to Lincoln several days ago to attend a McFarling family reunion. She had been staying with a sister, Mrs. Maude Tejeka, 2727 P street.

Her husband, who was a shopman for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, died in 1941. She was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' auxiliary at Oakland and the Royal Neighbors Magnolia camp No. 44 and Columbia Rebekah lodge No. 90 in Lincoln.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Minnie Cortney, Oakland, Cal., Mrs. Maude Burns, and Mrs. May Beck, both of Stockton, Cal.; two sons, Milo, Stockton, Cal., and Merle, Lincoln; two brothers, E. H. McFarling, Garfield, Wash., and Edward McFarling, Blue Springs, Mo.; three sisters, Minnie Bain, Hemet, Cal., Clara Roberts, Blue Springs, and Maude Tejeka, Lincoln; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

First Petition In Rent Battle

The first day after the beginning of circulation of petitions calling for a referendum to halt decontrol of rents, James L. Cooper, adjutant of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, filed the first petition with Secretary of State Frank Marshall. Signatures were all from Lancaster county.

After a hurried check of the names by the staff of the secretary of state it was stated that apparently all names were eligible and that the petition met requirements of the law.

Cooper said that he made no special effort to get signers; merely offering the petition to those he met in the course of his activities Friday afternoon. He said only one person contacted expressed opposition to the referendum.

Wilbur Miller Named Underwriters' Head

Wilbur Miller was named president and Don Riley vice-president of the Lincoln Life Underwriters' association at a luncheon at the chamber of commerce Saturday.

Harry Thorpe was re-elected secretary. Fred Bodie, Jr., and Frank Roehl were elected to the association's board.

Speaker at the luncheon was Charles W. Curtin, Omaha manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He spoke on the topic of "Industrial Insurance," and commented that approximately 50,000,000 people in the United States are covered by industrial insurance.

Retiring president Jack von Gilmer presided at the meeting. The speaker was introduced by Bertrand L. Ehrmann.

Truman's Niece Neither Politician Nor Musician

... Visitor Here During Sorority Meeting

By TED SCHULTZ.
Miss Martha Ann Truman, niece of the president, is one member of the renowned Truman family who is not particularly interested in politics or music—and incidentally, she doesn't care for walking either.

Miss Truman, an attractive, blue-eyed young lady, is in Lincoln attending the state convention of Nu Phi Mu, an affiliate of Beta Sigma Phi, national business girls' sorority.

In an interview Saturday morning at the Cornhusker hotel, she told of her recent trip to Washington, D. C., to attend the inauguration of her famous "Uncle Harry." During the week of the inaugural festivities, Martha Ann and her family stayed at Blair House, the temporary residence of the presidential family while the White House is being remodeled.

Lives At Truman Farm.
Martha Ann, as she is called by her family and friends, commutes to her job in Kansas City from the old Truman farm home near Grandview, Mo.

The farm was built originally by the Youngs, parents of the president's mother, who was affectionately called "Mama Truman" by the entire family.

J. Vivian Truman, Martha Ann's father, and the president grew up on the farm which is located 17 miles from downtown Kansas City.

Last Reunion Christmas.
When asked about the last reunion the Truman family held, Martha Ann replied, "We were all together during the Christmas holidays last year for a family dinner at our home. However, Father and Uncle Harry correspond frequently and so we keep up on the news in Washington. Margaret was home from New York last weekend."

Martha Ann also said this was her first trip to Nebraska. As she arrived by train from Kansas City Friday night she said she hadn't had much opportunity to view the Cornhusker countryside.

Here Until Sunday.
Miss Truman, who is assistant adviser of a Kansas City unit of Nu Phi Mu, has four brothers. Two of them are farming the family land; one is an electrical engineer and the other is with the Veterans' Administration. Her father, the president's younger brother, is regional director of federal housing in Kansas City.

Blonde Martha Ann, who bears a Truman family resemblance, will return to her home Sunday evening following the close of the sorority convention. Others arriving on the Kansas City train Friday night were Mrs. Lynn Terry, international president of Nu Phi Mu; Mrs. R. E. Edgerton and Mrs. Hallie Morris, international vice-presidents; Miss Octavia Teachenor, and Mrs. Verner Ames.

Auburn Firm Files Petition In Bankruptcy

... List $93,000 Debt

The Auburn, Nebraska, Alfalfa company Saturday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in Federal court listing $93,784 in liabilities and $74,244 in assets.

Of the debts, the firm lists $36,733 as secured and $55,925 as unsecured. Among the unsecured debts are listed $14,616 owed to Dovel Irvin of Auburn for grease, oil and fuel supplies and $11,000 owed to the Carson Natior 1 bank of Auburn on notes.

Largest secured debt is $26,848, the unpaid balance of a mortgage held by the Auburn State bank.

Among assets listed by the firm are machinery and equipment valued at $61,301.75. The firm claims no exempted property.

Nebraska Rains Stymie Couple From Washington

A Seattle minister and his wife, who drove from the state of Washington through torrential rains in Colorado, were unable to cope with Nebraska rains.

Rev. and Mrs. George Hein, who are guests for several days of Rev. and Mrs. Emil T. Pietz, 330 South Twenty-fourth street, became stranded Friday only several blocks from their destination.

Their car was stuck in the mud for two hours on an unsurfaced portion of L street between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth.

China's War Key Reason For Action

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The boiling situation in China appeared certain Saturday to force a restatement of American policy in the far east.

A White paper on China policy, prepared while Secretary of State Acheson was in Paris, is now being polished up by the secretary himself.

Two factors which may influence Acheson to issue the document promptly are:

1. Insistence of a growing bloc in congress that the United States refuse to recognize communist-occupied China as a de facto government.

2. The unheralded arrival in this country of Maj. Gen. Jenniu Huang, aide to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who is expected to bolster Chinese nationalist requests for American aid.

Administration leaders believe that a drive for aid to nationalist China at this session of congress will fail.

Reasons for this opinion are the economy wave on Capitol Hill, the mass of unfinished legislation and the fact that many members are flatly opposed to further help for the nationalists.

Senators Divided.
But an opposing view from 21 senators—16 republicans and five democrats—who are urging President Truman, under no conditions to recognize the communist government. They wrote the president:

"Any such policy would appear to be inconsistent with the position this government took in Greece and Turkey... and with the substantial support we have

Ships Warned

TOKYO—(INS)—American shipping was said in Tokyo Saturday to have been warned to stay out of the area included in a nationalist ordered naval blockade of communist ports in China.

An American shipping agent in Tokyo said the United States consulate at Hong Kong had warned all American vessels to stay outside the 12-mile limit around the coast north beginning Sunday. The blockade becomes effective that day.

The warning was said to have been issued because of the danger of provoking "incidents" in the event the nationalists are able to enforce the blockade.

given through the Marshall plan to the nations of western Europe and with the North Atlantic pact against aggression in western Europe.

"Communist control of China means the ultimate negation of the open door trade policy; loss of freedom and independence in a real sense for the people of China and a major victory for international communism with national security of the United States."

When Huang slipped quietly through Washington on his way to New York he denied his identity. Unofficial reports indicate that he is trying to stimulate a plan of Chiang's for the recapture of communist-held China.

The white paper, when issued, is expected to include large portions of the long-winded Wednesday report on China.

This document reportedly has been kept under wraps because of an administration feeling that it would be unwise to "pull the rug" from under Chiang.

Alleged efforts on his part to lobby for American aid is said to have brought about a reversal of this opinion.

West Issues Ultimatum

BERLIN—(AP)—The western allies ordered 14,000 striking Berlin railway workers Saturday to get back on the job by Tuesday or forfeit their unemployment relief.

They also promised full pay to the strikers in west marks, one of the strikers' basic demands.

Bandit Measures Bank For $17,000

HACKLEBURG, Ala.—(AP)—Police Saturday were seeking the bandit who measured windows for free and the bank of Hackleburg for $17,000.

Bank officials said the man, about 45, came in Friday and said he was a lumber company window salesman.

He hung around busily measuring windows until the bank closed and all employees but Cashier D. W. Stanford had departed.

The bandit then forced Stanford into the bank's vault at gun point, bound him with a belt and made off with $17,000.

It was 30 minutes before Stanford was able to free himself and notify police.

OUT OF THE MAIL BAG

We have been pondering over the mail of recent days in all of its variety. There was a note from a wonderful teacher. At the governor's conference at Colorado Springs this week Governor Dewey asked 47 other state executives what could be done in a substantial sense to recognize the natural teaching talents of an inspired and valuable educator.

It's a good question. Some people are born to teach; many others follow the teaching profession in spite of the absence of those qualities that stamp themselves upon the memories of young people, and invoke within young people a lasting sense of gratitude. The understanding of young people that an instructor possesses, or the affection that lights dull texts has a great deal to do with the ultimate results in a classroom, especially in the public school. Those qualities which contribute to effective teaching rarely get recognition in the size of the pay check.

Education has come to the forefront. Old John Harvard, one of the oldest institutions of higher learning, struck a mighty blow for freedom in the current discussion of education that has consumed columns of newspaper space. A Maryland lawyer had written a sharp letter of reprimand because two members of the Harvard faculty had participated in meetings which the Marylander interpreted to be subversively-inspired. He would not contribute a penny to the Harvard law school fund until the two faculty members were disciplined. Harvard, of course, is privately endowed, receives no tax support, which means Harvard in a very substantial sense looks to people of wealth for gifts.

The Maryland critic got his answer. Harvard will not place any ban upon the free mind if its failure to do so costs it millions of dollars in gifts. It will not in any way alter the traditional policy of the freedom of thought that is the essence of a free America. It will not forbid members of its staff to take part in economic or political discussion, it announces, in its answer to demands for a censorship of faculty free speech.

Some portions of the answer Harvard gave to its graduate Maryland critic deserve widest attention. "I do not see how you can expect reasonable men to think of participation in open and legal meetings on public subjects as the equivalent of secret plotting to commit crime merely because communists or 'fellow travelers' take part in such meetings," one paragraph of the Harvard answer reads. "To take the course you recommended would be to repudiate the very essence of what Harvard stands for—the search for truth by a free and uncensored body of students and teachers. Harvard believes in the free trade of ideas" of Justice Holmes. She believes that members of the faculties, in their capacity as citizens, have the same rights to express themselves as other citizens, and that those rights should not be restricted by the university by trying to keep a 'watch' on professors or otherwise. She believes that wide limits for free expression by professors are in the interests of the students as well as the teachers. The teachers have rights as citizens to speak and write as men of independence; the students also have their rights to be taught by men of independent mind.

Merger Of Lutherans Is Favored

... At Blair Meeting

BLAIR, Neb.—(AP)—The proposed union of Lutheran church synods has been given another push, this time by the United Evangelical Lutheran church.

The synod, largely made up of immigrants from Denmark and their descendants, voted at its convention Friday to merge with the Evangelical (formerly called "Norwegian Lutheran Church of America") and American Lutheran churches if those groups are interested.

To Appoint Committee

The resolution said if the other synods are interested the convention will ask the church council to appoint a committee to continue discussions with interested bodies of the American Lutheran conference.

The resolution proposed that the committee consist of three pastors of the church council, and two pastors and two laymen who are

Harvard, like any other great privately supported university, badly needs money; but Harvard will accept no gift on the condition, express or implied, that it shall compromise its tradition of freedom."

Those are courageous, blood-tingling words. So long as they shall be spoken, American education is safe.

But because the house un-American activities committee, caught off guard by a withering press denunciation of its demand that universities, colleges and schools submit lists of the textbooks used, has pulled in its horns hastily, this fight is by no means ended. The people, who want to establish a censorship or, better, a dictatorship of their own over American thought, are not that easily discouraged. They will try again.

In an entirely different field the same familiar theme cropped out. Senator Hugh Butler of Nebraska unfurled his long anticipated blast against Hawaiian statehood. He said Harry Bridges is the dictator of Hawaii. He could get an argument on that from thousands of Hawaiians. He charged the communists succeeded in taking over the democratic party of the Territory of Hawaii. He could get a second argument on that one. Then in a report to the senate Mr. Butler winds up and lets fly with this: "The Kremlin regards Hawaii as one of its principle operating bases in the campaign for a communist U. S. A."

We haven't the slightest doubt that in the utmost honesty Senator Butler believes the words which constitute his conclusion relative to Hawaiian statehood. He never has a great deal of trouble in persuading himself of the soundness of his own conclusions.

But he seems to forget that Hawaii is a territory, that it pays substantial taxes at this time, that its industrial and agricultural development has advanced amazingly, and that in the sense of national security it is vital to the American people. Perhaps he has some kind of a program to convert Hawaii into the type of defensive base that it should be. It is the one land area off the coast of the American mainland that lends itself powerfully either to defense or to attack. The people of Hawaii asked for statehood overwhelmingly. They are willing to assume its responsibilities, and we should welcome them. But there are powerful interests in Hawaii—rich and powerful interests opposed to Hawaiian statehood—and we fear Senator Butler has listened too much to their voice and too little to the voice of the people of the islands.

Nearer home the closing days of June were providing Nebraskans with novelty. Storms lashed the state, a saturated soil found it difficult to drink more water. Wheat fields were turning, and the approach of the harvest brought conflicting reports, although generally speculation upon crop yields was more cheerful than earlier. Between wind, hail and torrential rains, Nebraskans showed a new interest in the study of the skies. Rarely has the state been so lush green at this season of the year.

Back from Paris Secretary of State Dean Acheson made no boast of solid achievement in the discussions with Russia. He talked down the importance of the eleventh hour agreement reached in connection with German occupation, emphasized rearmament of western Europe, Congress showed some resentment. It seemed to feel that it was being subjected to undue pressure on appropriations. The congressional economy bloc was making a lot of noise, but had very little to show for all of its talk. Before any real slash can provide the taxpayers with cheer, congress will have to make up its mind where it can cut appropriations. The military appears to be the most likely candidate for a congressional shave.

Russia was exploiting to the fullest reports of a drop in business and industrial activity both in the United States and in the British Isles. Its newspapers hailed out their biggest type to emphasize declines in American steel production here. Russia has been gambling on an American bust from the beginning; in fact, that is its chief hope of winning a cold war.

There was little chance of a congressional breather during the steaming heat of summer in Washington. Congress was moving more rapidly, but a mountain of business still demanded its attention.

Most Americans preferred to think about vacations. There was no evidence of reduced travel to the lakes or the mountains; evidently the people had decided to let the politicians fight it out while the homefolks had fun.

Lincoln Man Heads Moral Re-Armament Student Cavalcade

A 12-car cavalcade of students stopped overnight in Lincoln Friday enroute to Mackinac Island, Mich., for a training course under Moral Re-Armament.

The cavalcade is being directed by Major Robert Amen, of Lincoln, a Moral Re-Armament staff member. The 53 students represent southern California, Austria, Canada, China and Finland.

Amen said the youth would receive training in how to propagate the idea that propels democracy. He described Mackinac Island as "the West Point which will train officers for the war for democracy."

While in Lincoln, Amen visited his mother, Mrs. Conrad J. Amen, and his family at their home, 427 C street.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A DAY

From sleep to wake.
From toll to sleep.
Some things to make.
Accounts to keep.
To sell, to buy.
To teach, to pray;
To laugh, to cry;
For all a day!
The hours the same
To all before.
And none to claim.
One second more.
A date to mark.
Each passing day.
From dawn to dusk.
For work and play.
Yet from the rise
To set of sun
By him who trees
Can much be done.
Before the end
His will can say:
He dated to spend
A useful day.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"Oh, all right, tell 'em to come, but keep that tickled-to-death tone out of your voice!"

Only the brave

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 24.
Connie had backed away from him and now stood staring, one hand grasping the door frame as though for support. "You say it was—a broken cork?"

"Yes. On the left hind foot. Why?"

She straightened with something of an effort.

"Nothing. Nothing at all. As you say, Slug was careless; so careless that—"

"That what?"

"Never mind. It was just a crazy idea. Good night, Jeff. Good luck!"

The search was resumed and went doggedly on. The Crown crew joined them and together with Jeff and Glenn and the guards and deputies moved literally foot by foot toward Cougar until fully half the distance had been covered without a sign of the missing box or its thief.

And to Jeff came the growing conviction that they were on the wrong trail entirely. No one could have transported that box this distance in broad daylight and on the back of a horse without being seen by somebody.

He rode swiftly toward Briscoe, then cut away to the west until he found himself in the dge of the steep bank by the creek where the thief had turned the wagon in search of a crossing. It was quite dark by this time, so he got off his horse, dropped the rein, and squatted on his heels to roll and light a cigarette. Where, he asked himself for the thousandth time could the thief have hidden that box if he hadn't transported it to the Cougar road?

Suddenly he heard the slow thump of hoofs. He put tobacco and papers back into his pocket and sat there listening. The sounds came closer and he finally decided that the horseman was riding directly toward the ford. Presently he saw him—a vague figure a hundred yards off—then he saw as he descended the slope to the stream.

Curious, Jeff got up and started along the bank, following, his slant toward the ford. Fifty yards farther on he caught sight of the man. The horse stood on the shore and the man was wading out into the water. He waded to the middle of the stream, the water came up to his armpits; then he turned at a right angle and followed the creek in Jeff's direction. The man stopped, seemed to be feeling about his feet, then deliberately submerged himself, remaining below the surface so long that Jeff wondered what had become of him. The water rippled and his head came into sight. He erected himself slowly and Jeff saw that he had some very heavy object in his arms.

This man was the gold thief, and the heavy object in his arms was the specie box!

It was clever, devilishly clever, and yet very simple. The wagon had been halted in the middle of the stream where there would be no betraying marks, and the man had taken the box and let it sink some yards away from the crossing. Its weight would hold it there and the gilt filled stream would hide it from view. And now he had come for the treasure.

Jeff put on his hat, drew his gun and began inching toward the ford on his stomach.

Jeff heard the harsh rasp of a hacksaw blade. He crept still closer, trusting to the fellow's concentration on his task and the scrapping sound of the blade to cover his movements. He leaped forward, his gun coming up to a level.

"Hold it, Slug!" he said sharply. "Don't move or I'll drop you!"

With a startled gasp the other spun around.

"Get your hands up where I can see them."

Slowly the hands of the other crept up and just as slowly he rose to his feet. In the moonlight he loomed tall and bulky. He was standing with the moon behind him and Jeff could not distinguish his features. A sudden doubt seized Jeff. Something about the figure was wrong; the size, or the shape—

"Step away from the box—down to the edge of the creek so I can see you."

The man obeyed slowly. Jeff followed him step by step. The other took one final step sideways and the moonlight fell full on his face.

"Glenn!"

Jeff stood there staring, mouth open. The gun dropped slowly until its muzzle was pointed at the ground.

"Glenn! What in the world—!"

He stepped forward, overcome with shock and bewilderment and disbelief. And quite suddenly Glenn Gleason leaped to meet him and the right hand which he had lowered came up again in a savage arc. The rock-hard fist caught

Pilot Dies Near Lyman

Father, Brother Witness Crash

LYMAN, Neb.—(AP)—His father and brother watched helplessly as Gerald Olson, 20, a soldier at Fort Warren, Wyo., crashed to his death in a light plane near here.

Fort Warren officials said Olson was taking flying lessons from a private flying school and was flying a small training plane from the school at Cheyenne.

Olson's father, Lew Olson, and his brother, witnessed the crash. They were working on the Gene Middleton farm northwest of here. The flier had spotted the plumbing firm truck owned by his father and circled around the farm.

As he came back a second time the plane apparently stalled and nosed to the earth. The father estimated the plane was flying at 800 feet.

Olson was married and lived at Cheyenne.

Proposed Moral Code For Film Stars Discussed

INDIANAPOLIS—(INS)—Eric Johnston, movie industry czar, was to meet Saturday in Indianapolis with independent exhibitors to consider a disciplinary program for film stars who violate a proposed moral code.

The code was advanced by Joseph P. Finerman, a Columbus, Ind., theater owner. Present at the meeting were to be members of the Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors.

Finerman's proposed code would ban any movie actors who "attained public notoriety" until satisfactorily cleared and would provide fines and suspensions for lesser offenses.

Camp Kiwanis Plans Open House On July 1

Camp Kiwanis, Camp Fire girls' summer camp, will hold an open house July 1, according to S. E. Coppel, Kiwanis club's camp committee chairman.

The area's new buildings which were built at a cost of $20,000 will be ready for occupancy July 3 when the camp opens its 1949 season, Don Parker, Kiwanis president, said.

Hooper Retiring

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—Harry W. Hooper of Scottsbluff, assistant general superintendent of the Great Western Sugar company, will retire Oct. 1, Frank A. Kemp, company president, announced. Kemp also said the company's three operating divisions will be consolidated into two. The Nebraska factories at Scottsbluff, Gering, Bayard, Mitchell and Lyman will come under the northern district along with Wyoming, Montana and plants at Sterling and Ovid, Colo. H. L. Hartsburg will be district superintendent.

WINS ELKS SCHOLARSHIP

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—Sandra Lou Sorenson of Scottsbluff has been awarded a $100 scholarship from the local Elks lodge and $100 from the Nebraska State Elks association. She placed second in a statewide contest. Six other scholarships ranging from $50 to $100 each have been presented to recent graduates of county high schools by the local lodge.

4-H Club Studies Soil Conservation

The Ideal 4-H club, soil conservation unit, visited two Lancaster county farms Thursday afternoon to observe soil conservation practices.

The tour was the first of five to be sponsored for the conservation clubs in the county, Assistant County Agent Tom Sherman said.

The club, under supervision of Glen Ehlers, leader, visited the John Furr and Al DuTeau farms. The tour was conducted by Conservationist Emery Nelson.

Jeff squarely on the point of the chin and he went over backwards as though driven by a battering ram. His head struck a corner of the iron bound box and the moonlight abruptly vanished in a pall of darkness.

Ohio Oil Co. Seeks Lease Of State Land

... Near Producing Well

Ohio Oil Co., Findlay, Ohio, has filed application with the state board of educational lands and funds for oil and gas leases on more than 6,000 acres of school land and right-of-way along Highway 91 in Cheyenne county.

Two of the school sections sought by the company are within two miles of the producing well which the Ohio company brought in between Gurley and Dalton.

In submitting its application, the company offered 50 cents per acre for the leases, which is a bonus of 25 cents above the amount required by state law. For the school land the company sent a check for $3,038 and $109 for the 218 acres of right-of-way across the county.

Fred McCourt of Greeley, Colo., company representative, explained that there is no intention of drilling on the right-of-way and creating traffic hazards, but that the leases are sought to prevent rival companies drilling there when they have no adjoining land.

The board of educational lands and funds met last July for consideration of sale of leases for oil and gas rights. They will be held July 6-7-16.

The school land leases provide that the schools shall receive 12 and a half per cent of the output in case either oil or gas is discovered on the school land.

Where the revolvers taken from the bodies of Alton Crapo and Albert C. Gladson, killed in a gun battle with state safety patrolmen, previously used in killings in Missouri and Kansas?

The answer to this question is being sought by officials in the two states. Ballistic records of the guns, now in the possession of the criminal investigation division of the Nebraska patrol, are being made at the request of the two states.

Lt. Harold D. Smith, chief of the division, will fire bullets from the captured guns and forward them with the gun markings to the two states for comparison with bullets taken from the bodies of victims of bandits where the slayer has not been apprehended.

Officers of the two states expressed belief that the two were responsible for several unsolved murders during robberies and that ballistic comparison of the bullets would clear up the identity of the gunman.

Blacksmith Hurt As Wheel Breaks

MINATARE, Neb. — (AP)—Loren Stewart, 35, a Minatare blacksmith, is in critical condition in a Scottsbluff hospital from injuries he suffered Friday when a heavy wheel he was operating in the shop broke into bits. His doctor said Stewart received a fractured jaw, a fractured skull and a brain injury.

Mrs. Stewart said the flying pieces of the wheel, which was about one foot in diameter, apparently struck her husband on the left side. Stewart's partner, Henry Brithouwer, was in the back shop when he heard a thud. He discovered what had happened and called the doctor. No one else was in the shop at the time.

Thefts From Autos

Thiefs of items valued at more than $30 from cars in the city were listed by police Saturday. The three thefts:

A pipe valued at $20 when new taken from the car of William Gunderson, 2145 Euclid, while it was parked on Thirteenth between M and N early Saturday.

Three screwdrivers, a gearshift knob and a flashlight, taken from the car of Philip L. Cheuvront, 6503 Colby, Wednesday night. Total value was $4.

A new raincoat valued at $8.95, taken from the car of C. Mildred Bell, 2943 North Fifty-first, while it was parked on L between Thirteenth and Fourteenth Wednesday night.

Kurth Estate To Husband—The will of Regina Kurth, who died Oct. 10, 1948, leaves the bulk of her estate to her husband, Herman R. Kurth. Bequests of $500 each are to be given her two sons and one daughter. The will was filed in County court for probate.

Teaching In Lincoln Was Pleasure Says Miss Winter

Approximately 400 persons, former students and friends, attended open house Friday night at the Y.W.C.A. for Miss S. Adelia Winter, retiring Lincoln school teacher.

At the reception Miss Winter was presented with a gift of savings bonds amounting to over $700, donations from her friends and former pupils. The gift presentation was made by Ben Norris.

"It has been a pleasure through these years to work with these children and parents, and this reception is far greater than any expectations," Miss Winter said.

Deeply Grateful. She added that she was "deeply grateful" to parents of Lincoln children "for sending me such lovely children."

"Instead of your feting me, I should be giving a reception for them," she stated.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
